

You know that learning powers your business

Get the data that proves the influence of your learning programs

Let Docebo Learning Analytics collect the data, crunch the numbers, and show the influence your learning programs have on business KPIs.

Make data-driven decisions

Collect and analyze your data quickly with easy-to-use dashboards designed to get insights into what's working (and what's not) for continuous improvement.

Prove that learning is a strategic investment

Connect your learning data and enterprise systems (like Salesforce, Workday, Zendesk, and more) to show how your programs influence business results.

Simplify reporting and data sharing

Automate and standardize reporting data across your learning ecosystem with live data sharing and access charts and reports on the fly.

Now you can finally show that your learning programs work.
